

R. Craig Ott – Biography

R. Craig Ott, CPA, is an experienced accounting and finance professional with over 30 years of experience addressing complex organizational, accounting, and finance issues including preparation of financial statements, new system implementations and business continuity planning.

Craig has held several leadership roles and currently serves as Associate Vice President and Controller at The University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston. In this role, he is accountable for ensuring the delivery of efficient, value adding accounting, financial reporting, payroll, tax compliance, and treasury services. He leads the University's external audit and contributes to implementation of institutional strategic initiatives.

Craig is a graduate of Texas A&M University and a Certified Public Accountant.