

SPEAKER

Jen Buck began the first decade of her career in a startup helping to launch a billion dollar global and award-winning brand while in a leadership development training role. Having now been a professional Keynote Speaker for 25 years, she's given over 10,000 programs impacting more than one million people throughout her tenure. As a two-time bestselling author with seven publications, hosting a television show that was seen in 50 countries worldwide, as well as a podcast that highlights female leaders who are changing their corner of the world, Jen is committed to amplifying great leadership and helping people get into the rooms where decisions are made.

Currently, Jen is the Chief Communications Officer for an organization and has led three U.S. Congressional campaigns as the Chief of Staff. Ms. Buck has also founded a nonprofit organization that helped 48,000 people, and she is on the leadership staff for one of the largest women's organizations in the world, leading 15 Directors and 30,000 women. She understands leadership and has an impressive track record in the highest roles. Jen Buck isn't just talking about leadership from stages, she's doing it everyday.
